

Remembering: “Petals of Hope”

Artistic responses to the Omagh Bomb

Conversations with Carole Kane and Malachi O’Doherty

Elaine Gallagher

Song

The grass seems greener,

They say I'm a dreamer,

For trying to look at the brighter side...

The sun seems warmer,

than the former,

Maybe because I no longer hide...

The hurt, the tragedy, the questions,

the impact.

We continue to search although we may never find fact...

For answers to our questions,

to try and make connections,

to work out the intentions and somehow subtract...

Overcome by the loss yet compelled by peace

to carry on and let my feelings be released

I dream of a day when there is war no more.

To find this hope in others I will continue to explore...

What is peace? What is love?

We each have our hopes of what is to come.

libraries ni

irresistible learning

Omagh
DISTRICT COUNCIL

VS VICTIMS &
SURVIVORS
SERVICE

This publication has received support from the Victims Support Programme for Groups Working with Victims and Survivors, which is administered by VSS on behalf of the Office of the First and Deputy First Minister. The views expressed do not necessarily reflect those of the Victims and Survivors Service.